

portland pine

Locally reclaimed in Portland, Oregon from heavy cargo shipping crates

Portland Pine is reclaimed locally from assorted Monterey Pines that arrive in Portland as heavy cargo shipping crates. Its colorful variations of creamy yellows, browns, grays and reddish pinks unite to create a beautiful and affordable material for flooring and paneling. Planks range from knotty to clear vertical grain, and occasional rich pockets of pitch cast an amber glow that sets this wood apart. Each one-of-a-kind floor has its own unique character and amazing story behind how it came to life.

portland pine

flooring & paneling specification

description

A blend of knotty and vertical grain pines with colorful variations of creamy yellows, browns, grays and reddish pinks that unite to create a beautiful and affordable material for flooring and paneling. Occasional rich pockets of pitch gives the wood a warm, amber glow.

Locally reclaimed in Portland, Oregon from North American shipping crates. Due to the difficulty in reclaiming the material the wood was previously discarded or burned. Viridian pioneered a process to divert the material from landfills, separate the highest quality wood and give it new life in our fishtail oak flooring.

net dimensions

thickness: 5/8" face width: 2 1/2" lengths: 1-6 (average 3-4') millwork

Flooring & paneling are tongue & groove, square edge, mill run (end cut at time of installation).
